UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH MEDICAL CENTER

Coagulation Fellowship

Description: The Institute for Transfusion Medicine and the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center, Department of Pathology, Division of Transfusion Medicine are offering a unique training opportunity in a joint, one-year Coagulation Fellowship Program. This program is designed to provide the fellow with a comprehensive exposure to, and supervised involvement in all laboratory and clinical aspects involving diagnosis and management of thrombotic and bleeding disorders and provide in-depth training to become a coagulation specialist in both academic and non-academic settings. This program capitalizes on the unique partnership between ITxM and UPMC combining a specialty coagulation laboratory, outpatient coagulation clinic and Hemophilia Center at ITxM with inpatient coagulation consult service at UPMC teaching hospitals. The physicians providing these services are full time faculty at the University. The fellow is trained in a highly integrated comprehensive system for the delivery of coagulation clinical expertise and consultation.

Requirements: The ideal candidate for this position is one who has completed training in Clinical Pathology, Internal Medicine, Pediatrics, Anesthesiology, Blood Banking/Transfusion Medicine, Hematology/Oncology or other clinical specialty, and is eligible to obtain a training medical license in the state of Pennsylvania.

Stipends: Salary is commensurate with year of postgraduate training.

Staff: Irina Chibisov MD, Fellowship Director; Franklin Bontempo MD; Darrell Triulzi MD; Joseph E. Kiss MD; Margaret Ragni MD; Lakshmanan Krishnamurti MD; Lirong Qu MD, PhD; Donald Kelley MD; Mark Yazer MD.
