RE: 2010 ICPI trainee travel award

Dear Dr Sobel

I am writing to express my thanks and appreciation to you and the Intersociety Council for Pathology Information (ICPI) board for a trainee travel award, which assisted with costs associated with attending the recent Experimental Biology 2010 meeting in Anaheim, California.

I was able to travel to Anaheim, present data from my research, attend a variety of excellent seminars or research sessions, and to participate in the American Society for Investigative Pathology (ASIP) membership committee meeting on which I have had the privilege of serving as a trainee member. This was also an invaluable opportunity to meet and interact with colleagues from around the world. All of these activities greatly enhance my professional development and time spent at the meeting is certainly a valuable part of my educational training experience.

Again, I am very grateful for the ICPI's generous support.

Best regards
