

September 13, 2011

I want to offer my appreciation for the Intersociety Council for Pathology Information (ICPI) Trainee Travel Award, which I received to help cover my expenses at the recent College of American Pathologists meeting in Grapevine, Texas.

Over the weekend of September 9-12, I was able to attend the Residents Forum, meet colleagues from across the United States and Canada, and present a case report about an arachnoid cyst of the spinal cord at a poster session. The entire experience was very motivating.

I learned so much about our changing profession and enjoyed multiple educational sessions about Soft Tissue Pathology, Placental Pathology, Myeloproliferative Disorders, and Benign Lymphoid Proliferations. I also enjoyed seeing other poster presentations about interesting cases and research.

The entire trip was a wonderful opportunity to meet other residents and practicing pathologists and learn about the various areas of pathology. Thank you for providing this amazing opportunity to pathology trainees.

Sincerely,

Lauren King, MD
