

The travel grant allowed me to attend the 2016 annual American Society of Cytopathology meeting in New Orleans, LA. I was able to present my poster for the research I did past year and network with others who has similar research interest. I learned a great deal from seminars and made important professional contacts. Thank you ICPI for providing with a great opportunity.